GRADUATION DAY—CLASS OF '85

Not one graduating senior slept the night before. It was the last bash as a student at Glassboro State and they weren't about to let this night slip by without celebrating. As the sun came up, graduates realized that they couldn't have wished for a nicer day. One might say that it was a beautiful day in the "Boro." Spirits rose above the clouds as the Senior Class of '85 donned their caps and gowns and checked to make sure that the all-important tassel was in place. Friends and relatives of all ages and generations were trying to figure out where they would be able to best see their special graduate. It was a time for parents to beam with pride at the achievements of their children. It was also a proud time for Dr. Herman James, who was addressing his first Glassboro State College graduating class as President of the college. Most of all, it was a time of relief and reflection as the seniors marched to their seats and started popping corks on the champagne bottles which were to be passed through the aisles.

Excitement rose among all in anticipation of the opportunity to see and hear Sam Donaldson, the ABC News Chief White House Correspondent, who was the keynote speaker. Sam Donaldson lived up to his name as he delivered a captivating, down-to-earth address to the more than 1,900 graduates. Talking from experience, Donaldson advised his audience to always question conventional thinking and to never just go with the crowd.

Colin McKeon, President of the Class of 1985, addressed his fellow students with a look back at the past four years at Glassboro and a wishful look towards the future. He summed up what was going through the minds of all students when he said, "If four years ago someone told me that I'd grow so attached to a small college deep in the woods of South Jersey, I would have told them they were crazy."

The highlight of the day was still yet to come. At the end of the ceremonies, the college concert choir started to sing, "We Are The World," only to be accompanied by the whole crowd after just a few lines. Many people wept as chills raced up and down their spines.

Following the commencement ceremony the graduates and their well-wishers gathered for a reception on the lawn by Linden Hall. Professors proudly congratulated them and wished them luck. Good-byes were said among friends, but they didn't mean forever, as they promised to keep in touch.

TROPICAL GSC '85

April 24-28 the 'Boro enjoyed a weekend in Tropical GSC. A time for all students to forget about classes, studying and homework. Instead, everyone concentrated on enjoying themselves and partying.

Spring Weekend began with a Shoebie-Bennie Night in the Rat for all students of age. At the same time, Jerry Abear was the host for a wild Beach Party in the Ballroom. Both events were a great success. Friday began another fun-filled day with the Cabaret Acts located in the Student Center. The twister contest started off the day followed by a group of comedians, breakdancers, and magicians who gathered to put on a spectacular show for the crowd. "I was very pleased about the turnout, this was the first year we sponsored this and I think it was very successful," according to Jenny Lynch, coordinator. Another very successful event was the Lip Sync Contest. Students of all kinds strutted their stuff and imitated their favorite singer. According to Lisa Cerny, this was the first successful Lip Sync Contest held at Glassboro. To top off Friday a drive-in movie, Eddie and the Cruisers was sponsored by the Senior Class.

The event under the big tent—The Sunshine Jam. Students from all over flocked to see a talented line-up of musicians. Beru Revue started off the sunny afternoon with their popular, catchy tune, "I Got a Job". Run DMC did a superb job of getting the crowd on their feet and moving. Finally our own up-and-coming local band the Hooters captivated the crowd with their upbeat tunes. A picnic sponsored by the Sophomore class topped off the eventful weekend with a Faculty-Student Volleyball Game.

The success of this year's Spring Weekend was partly due to the participation at the events during the Alcohol Awareness Campaign. The campaign emphasized the importance of Careful Drinkers Make Better Drinkers. This campaign was a major determinant in President James' decision to allow alcohol on campus for Spring Weekend. Congratulations Glassboro! You should be proud of yourselves for a job well done.

HOMECOMING '85

“HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS”

The success of the Homecoming King and Queen Pageant and fashion show on Wednesday night began a line of successful events for this year's Homecoming Weekend. There were many people in attendance to witness the crowning of the 1985 Homecoming King and Queen, Richard Kasper and Suzanne Parmentier. The pageant was the first one held at Glassboro State College in ten years.

The “21 and older” crowd had a fun time at the Holiday Bash in the Rat on the Thursday night of Homecoming. WGLS D.J.'s spun all the requests and even awarded albums to people who could name the D.J.'s who were not in the Rat. WGLS simulcast their program from the Rat for those who could not attend. Many Class of '85 graduates made an appearance and kicked-off their big weekend back at the Boro. Most of the Rat crowd was later spotted at either the Study Hall Pub or the Brewery, as they partied into the wee-hours of the morning. At the same time, upstairs, in the Student Center Ballroom, the Class of 1988 hosted a Chinese New Year Dance party. The D.J. for the evening was none other than WYSP's own Jerry Abear. There were contests for the best dressed partiers and everyone enjoyed the non-alcoholic exotic Chinese drinks.

Friday's events began with a Holiday Gong Show. Over 400 people turned out to watch eight talented acts occur in the Ballroom. The TKE pledges, with their melody of the Greek alphabet gave them third place. Kimberly Foster's Gospel song gave her second place. Finally, Cheryl Orsini's rendition of “The Rose,” clutched first place. Later on Friday night, not even the drizzly rain could put out the fire. The Glassboro bonfire and pep rally was one of the highlights of the homecoming weekend as the flame sparked as high as Glassboro's enthusiasm.

Joining the spirit of Homecoming, crowds gathered for the traditional parade. Many sororities, fraternities, organizations, and dorms participated in the all night float building. Creativity was not lacking this year, as turkey floats, Santa Claus and Spring Break in Florida rolled by. The floats showed that Glassboro was really "Home for the Holidays." The winners of the contest were ZBT and SDU with the float representing New Years Eve. All of the floats were original, much time was taken to build them and many laughs were had. The excitement of the Pep Rally really must have psyched the football players as they came to a 10-2 victory over Trenton State on Saturday afternoon.

Saturday night at 8:00, a crowd gathered in the ballroom awaiting Backstreets—"A Tribute to the Boss." The crowd rocked through two and a half hours of Bruce's old and new material. Bruce fans appreciated Backstreets as a great band in themselves, as well as the next best thing to Springsteen.

Once again the Homecoming spirit lives on at G.S.C. as students, faculty, and parents joined in this years successful event-filled weekend.

WELCOME DR. JAMES

More than 600 guests gathered on the college green of Bunce Hall on April 20, 1985 at 12 noon for the inauguration of Dr. Herman D. James.

Dr. James came to Glassboro in 1982, from California State University, Northridge, where he had been vice president and a professor of sociology — to assume the position of vice president for academic affairs.

Born in the Virgin Islands and raised in Harlem, he received his B.S. in education from Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, his masters in sociology from St. John's University, New York, and his doctorate of sociology from the University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. William C. Morris, acting Vice President for academic affairs, presided over the ceremonies. The music was provided by the G.S.C. band. The ceremonies consisted of a prologue concert, the National Anthem, the invocation, inaugural address, and other greetings. A formal ball held at the Student Center culminated the day's activities.

One of President James' goals was stated, "It is the notion of excellence, and the pursuit thereof which I present as the primary mission of Glassboro State College."

New Dorm Dedication

The six-year project to expand and improve Glassboro State College began in June 1983, and the first phase came to a close with the official opening of Chestnut, Magnolia, and Willow residence halls. The names of the buildings were chosen in keeping with Glassboro's tradition of naming dorms after rivers and trees of New Jersey.

In the fall of 1984, Magnolia and Willow Halls opened their doors to 192 students each. Chestnut, which opened in the fall of 1985, housed 366 with a total of 750 in the complex.

Though the buildings have an outside traditional appearance, the insides are very modern.

The buildings are divided into 8 person suites, 2 per fully furnished bedroom. Suitemates share bathroom facilities and two suites are arranged around a common living room and study area.

Holocaust: A Day Of Remembrance

The week of April 14, marked the 40th anniversary of the liberation of the Jews from the Nazi war camps. "Over but not forgotten . . . A Day of Remembrance" was the theme the Hillel chapter presented during Holocaust Awareness Day.

For those who survived this tragedy, we are marking the end of a living nightmare. For those who did not, we are marking a remembrance for them.

A full schedule of events occupied the day. Slides, films, and displays documenting the atrocities were presented as a time-line through the history. Several guest speakers discussed different aspects and experiences of the Holocaust. Tuvia Friedman, the keynote speaker, noted his 38 years as a Nazi hunter.

By the end of the day, all who attended shared an educational, emotional and enriched program.

The day was over, but not forgotten.

Guardian Angels

Curtis and Lisa Sliwa, co-founders of the controversial Guardian Angels, in existence for seven years now, lectured in the Student Center. They discussed the increased crime rate, blaming its rise on poor role models for kids.

Young kids are the ones to blame for this unprecedented increased rate of crime. Lisa Silva wants to solve this problem. Both Curtis and Lisa believe that the reason behind youths in crime is because of our society. They criticized Boy George, Madonna and Cyndi Lauper. These figures among others, portray a message of greed and self-centeredness of the youth.

Since they started their program, seven years ago, the Guardian Angels have made 580 citizen's arrests, yet have never used excessive force.

Jim Florio speaks out on Financial Aid

Congressman James Florio spoke at the Financial Aid Forum Day in the Student Center Pit on Wednesday, April 10, 1985.

The Congressman discussed the Department of Education's proposed restrictions on federal aid to higher education and other proposals on Capital Hill.

The Statewide Team on Educational Issues promoted the event, providing an awareness towards financial aid. Also present was the Office of Financial Aid, assisting with any questions on procedures dealing with receiving financial aid.

Alcohol Awareness Day

The Alcohol Awareness Day Fair, which was held in the Student Center on October 17, 1985 attracted many members of Glassboro State College. The Student Center was filled between 12:30 and 2:00p.m. with tables of information, a non-alcoholic bar, and a band.

Thanks to the participation of many people, the audience was made aware of the fact that you don't need alcohol to have a good time. Among the participants were Jim Lovegrove and Sam Raffa, who served non-alcoholic look-a-like cocktails. Frank Winter, Clayton's Police Chief; Joe Williams, Director of the Gloucester County Intoxicated Resource Center; Walt Sibley, Acting Administrator of the Tri-County council on Alcoholism and Joe Hale who represented the Gloucester County Health Association also participated in the festivities. The main attraction for the fair was a Burlington County rock band, Artisan. This particular band was chosen because they were organized to promote responsible drinking after nearly losing their lead guitarist to a drunk driver.

Thanks to the efforts of the Student Life and Development Organization and their program Director, Sue Davies, who were responsible for the fair, Alcohol Awareness Day was a huge success.

Jazzin' Your Blues Away

On October 17, 1985, jazz lovers at Glassboro State College were honored with a fantastic opportunity to see and hear the Harlem Blues and Jazz Band at the Wilson Concert Hall. The band is an all-star group of veteran jazz and blues musicians whose roots reach to the classic period of the '20s and '30s.

Founded in 1973 by a Westchester, N.Y. orthodontist and jazz authority, Al Vollmer, the band has received recognition as the definitive heirs to the Golden Age of Swing tradition. All the members played a part in the great bands from swing's heyday and all share a group enthusiasm which sets them apart from big bands whose members come from a mixture of generations.

The band opened the show with an upbeat number from the Duke Ellington Repertoire called the "C Jam Blues." This was just the beginning of what turned out to be a great night! The Harlem Blues and Jazz Band kicked out many great tunes from the famous Count Basie, Eddie Durham, Fats Waller, George Kelly and Bobby Williams.

One of the absolute highlights of the show was the magnificent vocalist, Laurel Watson. Laurel's voice sounded like it was custom made for the Harlem Blues and Jazz Band's style.

No one left this show disappointed. Even the band members couldn't conceal their pride and love of their music. What a night for jazz buffs!

Who Muscled Up?

The crowds chattered, eagerly awaiting the night's event. Behind the curtain, men and women nervously undressed, oiled their bodies, and began to pump themselves up. Tonight was their big night, the night they had prepared for in sweat. Tonight was April 11, 1985, the night of Glassboro State's Annual Mr. and Ms. Physique Contest.

The competition began as Rich Barca, the evenings host, introduced the competitors one by one. The women came out to perform nine traditional poses, followed by the men. Next, they were called upon to do their individual routines. This was where each bodybuilder expressed his or her own personalities to the audience. Through their own choice of music, sequence and style of poses, each bodybuilder dazzled the audience.

All displayed exceptional physical fitness, but Rebecca Jaffe's and Lesroy Farrell's superior muscle tone and definition dominated the competition from the start, giving them the victory. Coming in second was Karen Enderly and Michael Mosea, and in third place was Michelle Driks and John Zachau.

The evening was one which all enjoyed. The bodybuilders commanded the stage and the audience with beautiful displays of perfected physical fitness. The night was truly one which will be long remembered by all who attended.

Mr. "Showtime"

A special guest speaker came to Glassboro on October 23, 1985 representing "Showtime," a pay cable T.V. station. The speaker explained the many aspects of "Showtime" as a business itself, as well as its promotion, which included marketing and advertising strategies. "Showtime" aims to get customers and keep them.

The overall presentation focused on the Honeymooners, an all-time favorite show. Since the 1950's we have been watching the same 59 episodes, until recently when copies of the "lost" Honeymooners turned up.

Mr. "Showtime" explained the techniques used in their promotion which was powered by 52 more Honeymooners shows. These ideas, part of a very successful campaign, served as an interesting presentation, displaying the creative aspects behind the business of "Showtime."

Backstreets . . .

Next Best Thing to "The Boss"

On Saturday night, October 5, 1985 a crowd gathered in the ballroom awaiting Backstreets — "A tribute to the Boss." The crowd anxiously awaited the band, and after a late start they were wound up and ready to rock.

They opened the first set with "Born in the USA" and "Pink Cadillac," during which an 11 year old boy danced and played on stage with lead singer, Jerry Peil. After a short break they played another set until midnight, which included "Fire," "Growin' Up," and "Rosalita." They closed the show with a four song encore including "Jersey Girl" and "Dancing in the Dark."

Backstreets, originally from the Asbury Park area, have been playing the music of Bruce Springsteen for five years. They have played in local NJ shore spots, such as "The Playpen" in Wildwood, and "Joc Pop's" in Long Beach Island.

The band provided a well balanced two and a half hour show of Bruce's old and new material. Backstreets — the next best thing to Springsteen!

Governor:

Thomas Kean

On Monday, October 27, 1985, the Glassboro State College Student Center Pit was a stop on the campaign trail for Governor Thomas Kean.

The Governor spoke to a crowd of approximately 350 students. He dealt with the importance of higher education in New Jersey in general and the autonomy bills and challenge grants in specific.

Governor Kean's theme during his campaign was bringing back pride to New Jersey. He also had pride in endorsing two Republican candidates for Assembly in the third district — Glassboro's own Executive Assistant Jack Collins and Gloucester County Freeholder Gary Stuhtrager.

A footnote to this story, on Election Day Governor Kean defeated Peter Shapiro by a 70% to 30% margin. Jack Collins and Gary Stuhtrager defeated the incumbents by more than 1,000 votes.

Member of the Wedding

The Member of the Wedding is a play which raises many questions about love, death and the changes occurring from childhood to young adulthood. The production style reflected the mid 1940's as well as the location and manner of speech.

The job of Frankie Addams, the protagonist, is to accompany her newly married brother and his wife on their honeymoon, and then live with them for the rest of their lives. Though this did not work out, the play held an optimistic tone.

The actors, appropriately costumed in realistic outfits reflecting the dress period of the times, played their roles well. There were some conventions to the set such as a pretend kitchen wall, and an upstairs to the house. However, these did not pose as a problem, as the actors conformed to these conventions very well.

The Member of the Wedding was an enjoyable play due not only to the technical aspects, but mainly for the realistic and detailed acting. Each character represented ideas and issues, brought them out into the open and dealt with them. The play was a valid one, that all can identify with.

College-Community Orchestra

The Wilson Concert Hall hosted the Glassboro State College Community Orchestra, on Tuesday Nov. 12, 1985. The Orchestra conducted by Robert Taylor and accompanied by Adeline Tomasone on flute, put on a fine performance.

At age 13, Ms. Tomasone began her musical career with the Philadelphia Orchestra. Since then she has played with the Opera Company of Philadelphia, Davidsbund Chamber Players, Mozart Society and many others. She is also a member of the Glassboro Faculty Woodwind Quintet.

Siegfried's Rhine Journey, Fantaisie Pastorale Hongroise for Flute and Orchestra, Chacony in G Minor for Strings, and Iberia Images for Orchestra, No. 2, were the major components of the concert.

The concert was full of holiday bells crescendoing into festive sounds and rhythms for all to enjoy.

Reflections of a Genius: Thomas Edison

Thomas Edison came to life on November 6, 1985 at the Wilson Concert Hall.

"An Evening with Thomas Edison: Reflections of a Genius" was part of the Glassboro State College Celebrity Concert Series, and over one hundred people watched as Pat Hingle showed the human side of Thomas Edison. The show came about following Hingle's successful portrayal of Edison in several General Electric commercials.

A scratched old oak desk sitting on a frayed Persian rug set the stage, as Edison hobbled back and forth telling his story. "I don't want to be carved out of stone! I am living matter!" he exclaimed.

Edison, whose first invention was the telegraph, was thrown out of school and educated himself through the Detroit Free Library. Edison also created the light bulb, generator and power plant and often had 44 different inventions being worked on at the same time at his Midland Park research lab.

The show humanized a man who has become a legend. Hingle reminded us that Edison had weaknesses, problems and angers. Hingle received a CLIO Award for his portrayal of Thomas Edison in the General Electric commercials.

NO ONE DISAPPOINTED, AS PAUL YOUNG CAPTIVATES GLASSBORO AUDIENCE

As the gym lights dimmed, the anticipation of the crowd caused everyone to rise to their feet. Out of the darkness a tape recording of Gene Kelly's "Singing in the Rain" confused its listeners until Paul Young joined in on this uncut version of an American classic. The crowd screamed as the stage lights revealed Paul and his eight man band, The Royal Family.

Young held nothing back as he aroused the crowd for two hours. His adoring fans went crazy as he leaped, swiveled, crawled, and danced on stage. The enthusiasm he felt towards his songs was immediately shared throughout the gym. It was clearly shown when Young performed "I'm Gonna Tear Your Playhouse Down." The audience danced to the beat and sang out the lyrics as though they were the performers.

A hush fell over Esby as Paul serenaded every young woman with his version of "Broken Man." His eyes revealed a sincerity that engrossed the crowd. Every woman's heart was in her throat as Paul cried out the words to this song.

Young sang many of the songs on his first two albums, No Parlez and The Secret of Association. The concert included such hits as "Love of the Common People," "Stay (For Good This Time)," "Wherever I Lay My Hat (That's my Home)," and "Everything Must Change."

The Royal Family, including three superb backup singers, truly complimented Young's performance. It was easy to see that Young and his band are a family.

Paul Young concluded his outstanding performance with his top ten hit, "Everytime You Go Away." During this song, Paul clearly had control of his audience. As everyone sang along with him, they changed the words in the chorus to "Everytime you go away, you take a piece of us (instead of me) with you."

After standing on their feet for over two hours, the crowd seemed to linger around after the house lights went back on, almost unwilling to admit that the night was over.

Art Clokey . . . Creator of Gumby

Avid GSC Gumby fanatics gathered on November 4, 1985 in the Ballroom to learn all about the mysterious life of Gumby from his creator, Art Clokey. Clokey, a U.S.C. graduate, got his start in the business by making commercials for Coca Cola and Budweiser back in the '50's. In 1953 Clokey, who also created Davey and Goliath, was approached by some producers who asked him to come up with a creative idea to improve children's programming. And that he did — with clay!

"Gumbasia," a play on the name "Fantasia," was the first Gumby flick all about Gumby's birthplace. Clokey had two weeks to produce this and it was done in miniature, which meant low cost and less time. "Gumbasia" was created in Clokey's own garage in two weeks.

We also saw several other Gumby classics like "The Groo Bee," "Gumby Crosses the Delaware," "Ricochet Pete," "The Small Planets," and "The Clay Peacock."

When asked why Gumby has a hump on one side of his head, Clokey passed around a picture of his father at graduation. I understood as soon as I saw the picture and laughed along with the crowd. Clokey's father proudly sported a fancy hairdo with a curly mound of hair piled on the left side of his head. Gumby is a living tribute to the elder Clokey.

Fans can look forward to a forthcoming Gumby movie in '86. Keep an eye out for Tara, Gumby's girlfriend!

“Forty Years of United Nations”

The year of 1985 marked the 40th anniversary of the creation of the United Nations. The Glassboro State College International Studies and the Glassboro State College U.N. Chapter presented Jean Bernard Gazarian, the special assistant for General Assembly affairs.

With 39 years of experience in the United Nations, Gazarian spoke of the fight for membership from the original 51 nations to the current number of 159. He told his audience of the importance of the only universal forum in the world.

Gazarian ended his talk by presenting Glassboro State College with an official flag of the United Nations and a commemorative medal of the United Nations' 40th anniversary.

MISS BLACK GSC

Omega Psi Phi presented the Sixth Annual Miss Black Glassboro State College Pageant on November 23, 1985. Five young women competed in five different areas for the title. These areas were speech, casual wear, creativity, formal wear and spontaneous question.

Deborah Smith, a junior Communications major, won the title of Miss Black GSC. Dawn Leary, a second year Business Administration major, was awarded second place. Danielle LaSure, Terri Johnson, and Antoinette Wilson placed third, fourth, and fifth respectively.

This year the pageant experienced a great increase in the amount of support received from other black student organizations. The winner of the pageant serves as a responsible representative of the black student population.

Bandorama

The GSC Marching Band held a Bandorama on Thursday, November 21 in the Wilson Concert Hall. It was the first time the band performed an indoor show. The Marching Band, which performs at football games, decided to play indoors because of the cool weather.

This year's Marching Band has improved with the addition of new members and renewed enthusiasm. The Band's enthusiasm is due in part to the new assistant band director, Bill Wilkinson who designed the marching show and taught maneuvers while Dr. Owen Metcalf, band director, handled the music.

“Cords Crew”

Once again the “Cords Crew,” in coordination with Levi Strauss and Company, took the public relations challenge. The “Cords Crew,” members of the Public Relations Student Society of America (PRSSA), consisted of: Paul Capelli, John LaPlace, Eileen Wallace, Cheryl Runquist, Thomas Cording, Stuart Katz, Linda Maglionico, and Susan Vonacka.

The Crew ran many successful fund raising activities. The first activity was the “Cord-a-Que,” a barbecue where an extremely large pair of Levis were displayed. Another activity was the “Cord-a-Wars” where participants competed in such events as “tug-a-cord,” “cord carrying,” and a three-legged race. The winner of the “Cord-a-Wars” was Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Also during that month, The Study Hall Pub contributed to the fund raising by having a Levi Cords Night. It was a night full of games, contests, and other promotional activities. Even the Bud Man was on hand to share in the fun.

To help promote the Levi Cords on Campus Month, weekly Cordlets (sniglets) appeared in The Whit. Also contributing to the success of the campaign was WCAU-FM, Philadelphia’s leading top forty radio station.

The month came to a very successful close as the “Cords Crew” collected donations and established the “Cords for Cures Fund.”

Sit-up King

In November of 1984, Tim Kides captured the world record by doing 30,001 sit-ups, only to be beaten two weeks later. Tim then tried again in March of 1985 and broke the record by 4,948 sit-ups. Before he could make the Guinness Book, his record was again broken by someone else.

On the afternoon of November 14, 1985, Tim Kides began his final attempt at 100,000 sit-ups. Tim was allowed to rest only five minutes every hour. He did not eat any solid food and was unable to sleep. Training for this marathon was impossible. Kides attributes his success to the support of his fellow students. The Levi's "Cords Crew" was Kides' biggest supporter.

On November 17th at 7:22am, Kides attempt at 100,000 sit-ups ended due to severe leg cramps. He did, however, set a new world record of 72,746 sit-ups, over 25,000 more than the previously held record.

Channel 10 personality, Sheela Allen-Stephens, was astounded by Kides' determination as she joined him in doing a dozen sit-ups. Not only did Kides receive nationwide coverage, he also supported Project Santa by raising about $150 for The Valerie Fund.

PROJECT SANTA '85

Project Santa '85 started with a blaze with the traditional tree lighting ceremony on Tuesday, December 3rd. This year a new twist was added; 110 candleholders formed a huge star around the tree.

Throughout the week many fund raising activities took place. Local merchants filled the Student Center to create a market of various goods. A celebrity auction was held on Wednesday night and raised $1,900. This event was sponsored by the sophomore class. The highlights of the evening were visits from Mike Haddix and Byron Darby of the Philadelphia Eagles, the Philly Phanatic, and the uncanny humor of Glassboro's own, Ed Streb. On the following evening, students rocked around the clock at the sock hop held in the ballroom.

The most exciting day of Project Santa was Friday which started with a feud . . . The Family Feud. Women In Communications sponsored the event with Dennis Mercier playing Richard Dawson. Many organizations around campus joined the fun, with ADE surviving the feud and taking first place.

That night Project Santa came to a close with a New Years' Celebration. The ADE Drag Beauty Contest started the evening's events with eight hairy "beauties" giving their all to become the "Miss ADE Drag Beauty." The stunning Mark Griffiths was crowned with the title. The evening wound down with the Annual TKE Slave Auction followed by the Battle of the Bands, with Paradox being the evenings favorite.

Project Santa '85 raised over $7,500 for the Valerie Children's Center in Plainfield. This center serves as an immediate cancer treatment center for inflicted children.

Cheerleading

The 1985-86 cheerleading squad has come a long way. The Glassboro State College squad is doing more lifts and building higher pyramids than ever before. They cheer at all varsity football and basketball games. Homecoming weekend, they took a large part in the pep rally bonfire to arouse the spirits of the college students. They are a very dedicated squad. Co-captains for the 1985-86 season are Suzanne Rechleff and Michele Wogan.

Baseball

The 1985 Baseball Profs experienced a season of ups and downs and unfortunately for the brown and gold, mostly the downs. Head coach, Mike Briglia, suffered through his first losing season in twenty years with an over-all record of 15-16 and 8-8 in conference play.

Inexperience was probably the main cause in this sub-par season as several key positions had to be replaced by underclassmen or transfers.

After a torrid start (including a 4-2 Florida trip) in which the Profs were 8-2, coach Briglia's troops just couldn't find the right combination of hitting, pitching and defense. In many games a bushel of runs from the Prof offense (season avg of 7.03 runs per game) was not enough or a superb pitching performance was wasted by the lack of hitting and poor defense.

The explosive offense was led by seniors, Captain Kevin Healey and Frank Davis and freshman Al Cicatiello, the team's rookie of the year. Sophomore John Adams, who led the team with 28 RBI's, and junior transfer Frank Scaramuzzo, with a team high of 6 home runs, also swung some potent bats.

Senior shortstop Tom Troost, the team's most valuable player, was hampered by injuries throughout the season. Despite missing several games he still managed to turn out a first rate season and led the Prof team with a .451 batting avg.

The prof mound corps was devastated early when it was learned that senior Captain Dale Cross would see only spot action because of a bad shoulder. As a result, the bulk of the pitching rested on the arms of newcomers Rob Higbee, Bob Wright and Neil Hourahan. Junior Chris Adams and a crop of young freshman were also forced to help pick up the slack.

As a result the team just missed qualifying for a playoff birth in the tough N.J.S.A.C. in their quest for post season play. The highlight of the season came when the Profs neatly disposed of the defending Division III National Champions, the Ramapo Roadrunners, in a Conference double header on Prof turf, 11-9 and 6-5.

Men's Cross Country

Coach Bill Fritz led the Men's Cross Country team to an easy victory over New Jersey Tech and Montclair. Against Montclair the profs runners finished second through tenth. For Glassboro, Steve Saponara was second (25:46) followed by Andy O'Donnell (25:48), and Tim Malloy (25:56).

In a non-conference meet against Kutztown, Don Deckert, Scott Costello, and Bob Pvott all tied in the meet with a 25:05, leading the profs to victory again. Glassboro also placed three other runners in the top ten — Andre Burton, Steve Saponara, and Dan Fournery.

Glassboro's team continued to shine, winning their twelfth straight N.J. Athletic Conference title, with wins over Stockton and William Paterson. It also marked the 51st consecutive win in conference dual meets.

Women's Cross Country

The Women's Cross Country team finished another successful season, placing third in the conference as well as in the states.

Captain of the team, senior Kathy Wherry has led the Profs for four years. Third year Jennifer Rainey and second year Margaret Ginter returned this year to power the team. Tracey Engell, Laura Saponara and Andrea Vasile added pep to the team as first year runners.

In the meet against Swarthmore, Jennifer Rainey finished first with a winning time of 20:02, naming her Female Athlete of the Week. Kathy Wherry and Jennifer Rainey both were members of the All Conference and All State teams.

Glassboro State finished 3rd in the Temple Invitational Meet, of the third division. Scorers in this meet were Kathy Wherry, finishing 10th and Jennifer Rainey, finishing 14th. Andrea Vasile, Margaret Ginter and Tracey Engell also added points for the Profs.

The girls combined efforts, along with the coaching of Nancy Buhrer, made for a great season.

Men's Tennis

In the Spring, the Men's Tennis team, led by second year coach, Stan Celia, worked together for another successful season. The Profs opened their season on March 28, 1985 only to tackle an ambitious schedule that included a sprinkling of Division I and II schools, in addition to the Division III conference teams. Members of the team included senior: Ron Schlegel, juniors: Greg Douglas, Don Fritch, Jeff Lenhart and Steve Jannarone, sophomore: Mitch Einstein, and freshmen: Joe Dougherty, Chris Riebesell, Stephen Ruggiero, and Brad Seull. The Profs ended their season on May 1, with an overall record of 12-4.

Women's Tennis

The Women's Tennis team, led by coach Rod Norris, had a pretty tough season. Despite the effort of the girls and their coach, they finished with a record of 3-12. Playing on the team were seniors: Alexis Korsak and Terry McCormick, juniors: Pat Fralinger, Lauric Haegele, and Donna McDermott, and freshmen: Denise Obre and Kelli Weeks.

Pat Fralinger had an outstanding season with a record of 7-7. Also, Lauric Haegele finished with record of 5-9, both girls playing singles. In spite of the fact that as a team, the girls had a tough season, they all deserve credit.

Men's Track and Field

One of the biggest challenges the Glassboro State College Men's Track team faced this year was retaining their NCAA Division III Track Championship title with only 11 athletes. The Prof's reign of five straight NCAA Championships ended this year when the men's track team finished eighth overall. Although there was no team victory, there were several personal triumphs.

Nine Glassboro State College athletes won All-American honors at the 1985 Division III Track Championship held at Denison University in Granville, Ohio.

The 4x400 meter relay including freshman Tom Adams, senior Ron Moore, freshman Keith Thomas and senior anchor Willie Lawson, finished first in 3:11:57.

All-American Don Decker came in fourth in the 3000 steeplechase with 9:05:06. Lawson earned his second All-American honor with a fourth place in the 400 meters with a time of 47:79. Freshman Jason Mouring took third in the 110 meter hurdles with 14.39 and senior Mike Graffeo finished eighth in the 10,000 meters with a time of 33:56.53.

Glassboro State College Men's Track team also set records and captured bronze and silver medals in the 91st Annual Penn Relays held in April 1985.

The 4x200 relay team with Ron Moore, Rich Forbes, Keith Thomas and Willie Lawson won a bronze medal with a Glassboro best-ever of 1:25:2. The same four athletes set a 4x400 school record in the qualifying time clocking 3:12.10, and finished second in the finals.

The Glassboro State College Men's Track Team is the only team to have won five straight Division III Track Championships. Coach Oscar Moore contributes the success to hard work and regular competition with Division I schools. According to Moore, the future of the team looks bright. Everyone will be back for the 1986 season when they will try to recapture the championship title in Atlanta, Georgia.

Women's Track and Field

The 1985 season for Women's Track and Field was a strength building season, not only in muscle but in membership as well. Coach Nancy Buhrer's team improved because of a larger turnout of athletes. The return of last year's standout performers like three-time All-American javelin thrower Emma Painter (who earned her way to the national championship with a qualifying toss of 140-9), distance standouts Pam Okolita and Kathy Wherry, and a handful of other solid performers was a push in the right direction. The team had solid performers in most of the events.

Bill Fritz, the head coach of the men's cross-country team at Glassboro, divided his time between the men's and women's track teams which showed in the results. As an example, Buhrer pointed out the team's meet against Trenton State. Last year the Trenton squad outscored Glassboro by 64 points. This year they cut that gap down to 37 points.

The team placed second to Trenton State College in the Jersey Athletic Conference track championships, tallying 46 points. Trenton scored 77 points. Emma Painter tossed the javelin 125-7 to win the event. Tracy Ingell placed second to Painter in the javelin with a 114-10 toss, and the soph performer also recorded a second in the high jump.

On the track, Lynn Troiani picked up a pair of thirds, winning medals in the 3,000 and 800 meter runs, while Pam Okolita placed second in the 1500 and third in the 3,000.

Overall, it was a good year in terms of the total program making progress with a 3-4 record. The girls worked hard and it showed.

Lacrosse

Glassboro's Women's Lacrosse team started off what was to be a good season with their 13-10 victory over Swarthmore College. Knowing that they hadn't beaten Swarthmore in the previous four years added icing to the cake. Frosh Sonia Martines added a three-goal effort in the win, while Misty Poole, Valerie Genzano and Renee Cioffi also scored.

The GSC stickers team ran into a whirlwind in the form of defending national champ Ursinus and dropped a 23-6 decision. But, with soph Sonia Martines scoring eight goals, the team rebounded to top Philadelphia Textile, 15-11, to up its mark to 2-1.

Later in the season Glassboro's relatively young defense showed against Trenton State, as Trenton rallied for a 9-8 win. But veteran goalie Elaine Ellis kept hopes up through-out the game as she turned away 32 shots. At the other end of the field, vet Sheila Howard tallied four goals to increase her team-leading total, while Misty Poole added three goals and Sonia Martines also scored.

Following the loss to Trenton, coach Penny Matthews' Lady Profs showed their spirit by coming back with a pair of big wins. Led by Sonia Martines six goals, the Lady Profs topped Montclair State, 18-5, then Denise Eldridge tallied four goals to lead the way past Salisbury State, 13-4.

The two wins upped the team's record to 6-3 on the season which paved the way for two more wins over Villanova and East Stroudsburg leaving the team with a successful 8-5 season.

Field Hockey

Glassboro's Field Hockey team looked great in '85 on top with three victories in their first three games against Immaculata (6-0), Montclair (6-2), and King's College (4-1). The week of September 23, was jam-packed but the team was ready, winning three games on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday against Kean, Gettysburg, and William Paterson.

Kathy Edwards, Renee Leo, Michelle Steinhauer, Cyndee Graham, Michelle Knisley, Renee Cioffi, Caroline Cioffi, Lisa Scafidi, Sharon Paterson, and Mary Jo Timothy combined efforts for a victorious season.

Softball

Glassboro State's Softball team, the Lady Profs had a record of 24-16-1 for the 1985 season. Cathy Kunz is the head coach of the Lady Profs.

To start the season, the Lady Profs went to South Carolina to play 12 games in eight days. They finished with a record of 4-7-1.

Senior Diane Sorantino and junior Andrea Bramante served as co-captains for the 1985 season. Sorantino was the teams top hitter and also a standout defensive shortstop.

Coach Kunz's trio of freshman pitchers, Kim Higgins, Trish Straw, and Tammy Edick, all first year performers, demonstrated a fine display of mound work.

The leaders at bat were Beth Kerr, Andrea Bramante, Diane Sorantino and Jayne Mauro, all of which can really power the ball.

Sophomore Amy Goonewardene served as a designated batter and also defended home as a dynamite catcher.

As a team, the Lady Profs demonstrated high spirited enthusiasm and fantastic work as a unit. Sticking together and working with each other, the Glassboro State Women's Softball team ended with a fine season.

Volleyball

Last year the Glassboro State Women's Volleyball team won its first New Jersey Athletic Conference Championship. It was the first winning season in the history of GSC Volleyball.

This year the profs continued their winning streak with their second New Jersey Athletic Conference Championship. The team finished their season with a conference record of ten wins and zero losses and an overall record of 37-7.

In the New Jersey Athletic Conference, Glassboro played Stockton, Jersey City, William Paterson, Kean and Rutgers/Newark and won every game. In addition to the Conference Championship, the team won several tournaments.

The GSC Women's Volleyball team played Molloy College, Concor dia College, City College of New York, King's College, Kean College, U.S. Merchant Marines Academy and South Hampton College at the Brooklyn Tournament and won the Tournament not having lost a game. Although the team placed fourth in the Rochester Tournament, they won the New Jersey Institute of Technology's Tournament the next weekend.

The team was ranked 19th in the nation and third in the South region. However, the team met some tough competition at the Western Maryland Tournament and came out in fifth place.

Returning to the team this year were Kim Clendining, Donna Gathright, Amy Goonewardene, Sandy Ladzinski, Maureen Leavitt, Magda Menner, Shona Reichardt, Mary Simmons, Michele Solack, Diane Sorantino, Dawn VanderWal and Toni Wilson. Newcomers to the team included Jill Dilatush, Holly Fellows, Caren Hector, Tracey Maurer, Laura Russo and Kim Sperber. The season was Penny Matthews' fifth season as head volleyball coach.

FOOTBALL

Two words could describe the 1985 Glassboro State Football team: exciting and heartbreaking. The Prof gridmen finished up their season with a 5-5 over-all record and 4-2 in the New Jersey State Athletic Conference.

In their last three losses they were beaten by a total of 6 points and once again the NJSAC title came down to the last game of the season against Conference foe Montclair State. Unfortunately the 17-16 score gave the victory to the Montclair Indians.

The 1985 Profs did have a tremendous season offensively. Not only did junior quarterback Larry Lewis resemble Dan Marino, he also played like him passing for 2039 yards and a total of 165 completions out of 334 attempts with 16 touchdowns.

Complimenting the strong arm quarterback were two excellent receivers: Seniors Mike Yorke and John Adams. Co-Captain Yorke was hindered by injuries in early season but was virtually unstoppable during the second half. He led the Prof receivers with 43 receptions for an astonishing 612 yards and received 1st Team Conference Honors.

Almost as lethal as the Prof air attack was the 33 year old place kicker John Womack. Womack made 6 field goals out of 11 attempts and kicked 26 for 28 point after attempts (P.A.T.s). He booted a 46 yard field goal against Jersey City State and his 44 points scored tied him for a team high record.

On defense the gridmen did have some problems, but still had some outstanding players. Senior Co-Captain John Ferner led the squad with 127 tackles. The stocky linebacker also received 1st Team in the Conference.

Also turning in a banner year on defense was another 1st Team Conference player Brian Adkisson. A junior safety, Adkisson picked off 5 interceptions and made 62 tackles.

Men's Swimming

The Men's Swimming and Diving team, led by Co-Captains George Glover and Darren Hickman was one of the strongest in the nine year reign of coach Tony Lisa.

The team met strong competition and yet posted a very good record. After a 12 day training trip to the Hall of Fame Pool in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, the team demonstrated outstanding team depth and great speed. Led by the outstanding distance one-two punch of Garr Kerr and Kevin Franceschini, the team was up to the challenge of the ambitious schedule. Sprinters Jeff Reeves, Tony Yu, and Tom Ens helped to make up a very fast final relay that beat Swarthmore early in the season. Glover, Hickman, Sorelle, Brown, and Heckman combined with the sprinters and distance swimmers to place high in the East-West swim meet in Florida.

The team swam against Georgetown, West Chester, Rider, East Stroudsburg, Kutztown, and conference teams as well as the opponents in the Tri-State Championships consisting of Duquesne, Loyola, Washington and Lee, UMI, and Frostburg.

Women's Swimming

The Women's Swimming team, led by coach Donna O'Leary, opened their season on November 25, 1985 against East Straudsbury. East Straudsbury is a Division II school with a tough reputation for the Profs to open their season against. Losing their opening meet with a score of 33-105, the women swimmers were not discouraged. They set a goal to double the number of wins from last season. Last year the Profs finished with a 3-11 mark. Returning for her fourth year on the team is Lynne German. German swam long distance her previous three years. Karen Enderly and Michele Strano are other seniors on the team. Other members of the team include Juniors; Deirdre Flannery, Patricia O'Hara, Elizabeth Wolfington, Sophomores; Suzanne Heither and Kelli Umstetter. Umstetter is filling in for a graduated All-American swimmer Connie Ewing. The freshman on the team include Jane Joyce, Nicole Kaplan and Trisha Wysocki.

Soccer

Last year the Glassboro State College men's soccer team's 14-4-2 season record was short of a bid for post season competition for the first time in seven years. This year the team not only won the New Jersey Athletic Conference but also placed first in the Pennsylvania/New Jersey region. They played in the nationals and came in fourth, losing 2-1 to Washington University (MO).

Coach Dan Gilmore had high hopes that this year's blend of veterans and newcomers would turn out to be one of his best teams ever. The front line was improved with the return of players, Irakalis Bourinaris and Greg Boyle. Also in the front line were newcomers, Tony Cantaffa, Robbie Newman and Steve Wink. Mike VanBrill and Todd Sintac, joined All-Conference co-captain Tom Olbrich in playing mid-field. Glen Cargan, Paul O'Donnell and Greg Wiebolt along with All-Conference co-captain Mike Adams played back positions. Eric Von Hirsh and Bob Harris played goal-keepers.

Also playing for the GSC team were Keith DeCollewaert, Ray Lambert, Ed Monacchio and Larry Williams. Newcomers to the team included Jack Bernstein, Eric Hlava, Chris Logar and Jamie McGroaty.

Coach Dan Gilmore ended his tenth season as head coach with the New Jersey Athletic Conference Coach of the Year Award. Forward Greg Boyle was chosen as a first team all-star and was the highest goal scorer in New Jersey with 19 goals. Mike Adams was also selected as a first team all-star.

Glen Gargan, Rob Newman and Tom Olbrich were chosen for the second team. Gargan was also named Rookie of the Year. Irakalis Bourinaris and Mike Van Brill made the third team and Todd Sintae received honorable mention.

The GSC men's soccer team's season started with their second Nike Invitational Tournament Championship. Glassboro shut out Castleton State 2-0, and defeated Ithaca College 2-1. The team played the University of Delaware, Jersey City, Widner, Wilkes, Swarthmore, Trenton State, Rutgers-Newark, William Paterson, Stockton State, Colorado College, Regis College, Rutgers-Camden, Salisbury, Kean, Montclair State, Kutztown, Ramapo, Elizabethtown and Millerville.

The team finished the season with a record of 17-4-3 and 7-0-2 in the New Jersey Athletic Conference, winning their fourth conference title.

ICE HOCKEY

A 4-2 victory over Penn State was the highlight of the Men's Ice Hockey season. This game kept them in a three way tie for second place in the Delaware Valley Collegiate Hockey Conference. The team's record stood at 3-3-1 in the league. Last year their season ended with a 5-9 record.

Tom Borkowski had the most points scored for his second year in a row, with 16 goals and 21 assists. It was former G.S.C. iceman Bruce Lawrence's second year as head coach. Statistician and team manager Monique Dowgin worked her third year with the squad.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

This year's basketball team began the season with great expectations. Everyone was back from the previous season, and it looked as if the 1985-86 squad would be one of the school's best. Unfortunately, things did not work out as planned.

In the first scrimmage Rodney Davis, who was team captain and probably one of the best players in the conference, broke his ankle and was unavailable for most of the season. This was the beginning of a long list of injuries to inflict the team. Joe Murphy and Frank Taylor, who were also team captains, and Sean Harvey, a senior guard, received severe ankle injuries which limited their action tremendously. The team lost many close games early in the season, but they never gave up.

The team enjoyed a great trip to Georgia over Christmas break to play in the Armstrong State College Tournament. The Profs came in third over-all, and proudly represented Glassboro State. This trip was definitely one of the highlights of the season.

Last season the Glassboro State Basketball team was lacking a good front line. With the addition of Norman Wilson and Larry Perkins, the Prof's quickly solved this problem. Kevin Davis, Shawn Johnson, Shawn Norwood, and Kevin Kelly rounded out the team.

The basketball team ended their season with a 11-14 record; 10-8 in the conference. The biggest win of the season was the final game against Jersey City. The Prof's whipped this first place team 92-90. If this game was any indication of what's to come next year, Glassboro should see a great season. Returning next year are Kevin Davis, Wilson, Perkins, Johnson, Norwood, and Kelly.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The Women's Basketball team had an exceptional season this year. The team was led by senior Tammy Steele who was setting all kinds of records. She set the record for most field goals in a season; free throws in a season; rebounds in a season; most points in a season; and most steals in a game. Steele's career total points were over 1,700, the most by any female in GSC history.

Steele was supported on the court by juniors Geri O'Keefe and Kim Franchi, and sophomores Alice Knoll and Elena Tiberi. The highlight of the team's season was breaking Rutgers-Newark's sixteen game winning streak. The Lady Prof's crushed their streak with a 92-87 win.

The team took part in the Georgian Court Christmas Tournament, and came in second behind Stockton State. Steele and Knoll were both named to the All-Tournament Team.

Congratulations ladies for a fine season!

WRESTLING

Head coach Jim Ingles and assistant Fred McColl led the G.S.C. Wrestling team this year along with co-captains Dan Dugan (190) and Jeff Hansen (167). Other members were: Scott Vetter (118), Tony DeSantis and Ken Harms (126), Chris Brockman (134), Dennis Horner and Bryan Barrett (142), Bill Cioffi (158), Jim Williamson (177), Harry Xenitelis, and heavyweight Brett Aretz.

Injuries and illness plagued the squad this past season and many matches were forfeited. With the solid leadership of Dugan and Hansen, the team was able to overcome these problems and ended the regular season with a 12-9 record, much better than last year's 7-9 mark.

The Prof's were very successful in the 1986 Upsala tournament. First place titles went to Dugan, Barrett, Cioffi, and Williamson, and a third place title went to Hansen. Dugan and Hansen have attributed their success to an active weight training program. The squad hopes to continue to improve its record in the season to come.

GOLF

The 1985 Glassboro Golf team finished their season third in the New Jersey State Athletic Conference. The team was led by sophomore O.J. Juhl, who was named to the All Conference Second Team for the second time. Juhl, along with teammate Ken Jones, finished in the top ten of the NJSAC's three tournaments. Other players who guided the Prof's to their third place standing were Dan McQuilken, Fran Mu-holland, Mike Sorelle and Tim Carlson.

Coach Richard Wacker anxiously awaits the 1986 campaign as all members from the 1985 team will return for another season.

Here I am, out on the road again . . .

Passing through another phase . . .

Watch me now as I pretend . . .

As we merely grow and age . . .

Here I go, playing star again . . .

Special Thanks to . . .

Bob Collard for everything, and especially for having faith in me. J.D. (DUFUS)

Carol Schoener for all her help — Thanks, J.D.

Rick Kramer for being persistent and making this book exist. Thanks for all your help, time and patience. J.D.

Tina Gaglio for listening to me and for all your support. J.D.

Sue Cancglin for taking care of things, helping, caring and friendship. Love you! J.D.

Dawn Adukinas for all her support and help, and for pulling through in the clutch. J.D.

The Whit for all their help. J.D.

Dave Schofield of Delmar Publishing Company for his helpfulness and understanding. J.D.

Dudley Davis of Loristan Studios for his time, patience and help. J.D.

The yearbook staff, couldn't have done it without you!! J.D.

Special thanks to Julie; WE DID IT! Thanks for believing — Love, R.K.

Sue and the great meals. R.K.

Scott for the last minute developing. R.K. & J.D.

Mr. C. for not giving up. R.K.

Lisa and Gary for the great pix of Live Aid. R.K.

Mr. Collard, it was nice getting to know you! S.C.

To my crazy drinking partner, gonna miss ya! Thanks for sharing your last few months with me. Love, S.C.

Hey Rick, dinner's at 5:30 (anytime)! S.C.

Mary, Sorry you had to do the pictures twice. Thanks!! S.C.

Remember — PAUL YOUNG RULES!!!!

Here I go, Turn the Page.

The material expressed in this book does not necessarily represent the views of Glassboro State College, its administrators, faculty, or students. Rather it represents the opinions of the editor and her staff.

The Oak apologizes to those people, clubs and organizations whose activities were not included in the 1986 yearbook. Due to a time factor in publishing and a limited number of photographers and copywriters, we were unable to cover some events.

Colophon

Volume XV of the Glassboro State College OAK was printed by the Delmar Company, Charlotte, North Carolina. The program used was Graduate. The paper is 80 pound Warrens gloss enamel. The binding is Smyth sewn with rounded backbones and silk head and footbands.

The cover material is Lexotone #41067. It is embossed with gold foil. The cover is an original staff design.

Body copy was set in 10 point Tiffany Demi with headlines and emphasis face in Tiffany Medium.

The 1986 Oak was printed in a 1200 copy run with 272 pages in a 9 by 12 size.

Thank You
